Democrats in the House will attend a aucus Tuesday night to prepare a profor the anti-trust legislation which received its final touches in comcapitalization bill was reported from the interstate and foreign commerce committee. This is the third of the antitrust subjects to be placed before the House in the form of proposed legisla-tion. The others are the interstate trade ission bill and the Clayton anti-bill has the largest and sharpest "teeth." and it is the only trust bill against which republican criticism has been directed to any extent.

Members of the minority said today that the bill reported yesterday would dissolve every railroad combination, good or bad, in the entire country, and some of the most disgruntled members declared that it would act in most depressing manner on transportation the country over.

"Gentlemen:—During the winter of 1911 I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs. Eckman's Alterative was recommended to me and I commenced using it as a last ressort. The first bottle seemed to give no relief; in fact, I seemed to feel worse, but I kept on using the medicine and found out the first bottle had really started me on the road to recovery by loosening the mucus and making me expectorate freely. After using the medicine for some time, my cough ceased. I gained flesh, and today I am a well man."

With despotic and exclusive power in its hands it taxes the District resident heavily, in view of the limitations placed by it upon his money-earning capacity; and some of its members then abuse him as a mendicant. Having done so much to make it cant. Having done so much to make it undestrable to live here, it is now proposed that Congress, through the imposition of an unnecessary and drastic inheritance tax, shall render it undestrable even to die here. Usually Americans tax themselves for specific purposes, in the way most easily borne by them, with an accurate adjustment of rate and assessment to raise as nearly as possible the exact amount required. Here the necessary tax total under the law is one-half of the amount that Congress is willing to authorize to be expended each year on the National Capital. Washington is accustomed to raise this amount by a heavy realty tax, under an assessment much higher than that of the average American city, and by a comparatively light personal tax.

This method of taxation imposes, as we have seen, a net burden of tax levy upon the Washingtonian heavier than that imposed upon the vast majority of American "Employes of the executive civil service permanently residing in the following incorporated municipalities adjacent to the District of Columbia will not be prohibited from becoming candidates for or holding municipal office in such corporations: In Maryland—Takoma Park, Kensington, Garrett Park, Chevy Chase, Glen Echo, Hyartsville, Mount Rainier, Somerest, In Virginia—Falls Church, Vienna, Herndon.
